Church Dedication: Important Event in History of Town

Large Congregation Present; Church Beautifully Decorated. Many Attend Thanksgiving Supper and Concert

Thanksgiving Day and the preceding Sunday, November 7 and 8, 1926, will long live in the memory of the United Church congregation of Empress. After years of waiting and working, the various organizations which make up the church, life have attained their happy possession of one of the finest church properties to be found in any similar, or even larger, western town. The contrast between the modestly abandoned building and the present acceptable place of worship, into which it has been made, is almost incredible.

Sunday evening, a special form of dedicatory service impressively opened the church auditorium, which was crowded with a large congregation of flowers, fruit, grain and flags, a beautiful effect, and constituted the formal dedication of the property. A former church-warden, Rev. G. G. Pylus, B.A., of Waterville, Alaska, was special preacher, and in the conduct of worship, was assisted by the present pastor, Rev. N. W. Whitmore.

The significance of the event was kept well before the worshippers in the whole order of service, in the hymns, scripture lessons, musical numbers, and the genuinely helpful, idealistic message, interpreting the church's mission, by Rev. G. G. Pylus. He defined and described the mission of the church, in terms of worship, salvation, fellowship and service, and challenged the people to follow its leadership. The special appropriateness of Mrs. L. Shannon's solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," which followed the sermon, and preceded the actual form of dedication, the solo by Mrs. McNeill and violin solo by Mr. McNeill and the very fine work of the choir, led by Mrs. Anderson, aided in this auspicious event.

On Monday, a Thanksgiving Dinner was served in the church school room at 5 p.m. by the Ladies' of Congregation. Decorations were jointly associated with celebrations of Armistice and Thanksgiving, and revived memories of Halloran. Knowing the ladies of Empress, one does not need to elaborately praise the well prepared menu, although it is more than deserved.

At 8 o'clock a very happy and enjoyable program was introduced through the capable chairmanship of Mr. Thor. Rowles. Through the speeches of Mr. Rowles, M. McEACHERN, Rev. Pylus and Rev. Whitmore, references were made to the early days, the succeeding progress, and present accomplishment, free of debt, and the consequent hopes for future development. It was most fitting that Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Skott, who had notched off the way from Calgary in order to be present on this occasion, should be called on. They established a contact with the past that otherwise might have been lost. The concert numbers on the program were instrumental solo — Mrs. J. S. Anderson, Anthem — United Church Choir, Solo — Miss Peggy Arthur, Recitation — Stewart MacPherson, Solo — Mrs. McNeill, Recitation — Arthur Belle, Instrumental duet — Mrs. Anderson and J. McNeill, Piano Solo — Mrs. G. G. Pylus, Recitation — Miss Naomi Boyd, Double Duet — Madeline Sexton, Rowles, Boyd and Arthur.

"God save the King!"

Appreciation is expressed for the help of all who took part and for the accompaniment of Mrs. Anderson.

The attendance on Sunday evening more than filled all church pews, and on Monday tables were over-run filled. The Thanksgiving offering amounted to $265 and net proceeds of dinner $100, but better than numbers and dollars, was the general spirit of contentment and optimism that pervaded both of these memorable days in the history of Empress United Church. Still greater things are before us.

In Fatal Auto Accident

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark and family suffered in a fatal auto accident which occurred about two weeks ago. Mrs. Clark was killed and the two badly injured. The motor truck in which they were riding was crashed into by a car coming out of a field on to the public road about 10 miles from Sioux City. Mr. Clark and his family formed about four miles northwest of town, two or three years ago; he is a brother of Ira Clark.

Charles Young, returned to town this week.

The Grandeur of Work

Some very significant statements appearing recently in the newspapers and magazines are worthy of repetition as pointing a moral to all individuals, communities and nations.

Several of these are comment on the rapid and strong "comeback" staged by Germany. Following the signing of the peace treaty the German people found themselves relieved of the burden of maintaining a huge standing army and a large and expensive navy, but on the other hand, they had sustained the loss of all their colonies, practically all their mercantile shipping, and, like all countries, were faced with the re-organization of their industries from a war to a peace basis, and, in addition, their whole overseas export trade had been destroyed. Their money was valueless, and they were compelled to assume enormously heavy taxation to make good their losses and pay their reparations bills. There was only one solution to their difficulties, and that was for everybody to go to work, and work hard and long. They did so, and now the whole world is witnessing the spectacle of a rehabilitated Germany which is rapidly becoming prosperous.

Italy, too, was impoverished by the war. Her money was valueless; her industries in bad shape; her public debt huge, and many of her people of an indolent type, preferring to beg rather than work. It appeared that the whole country would fall into the hands of Bolshevik Socialists, murdering as a dictator and saved the situation by prohibiting begging, ordering everybody to go to work, and re-organizing the industries of the country and prohibiting the importation of luxuries. As a result, a new Italy is arising, preventing a sharp contrast to Russia where indolent languidness and is largely destroyed, and unemployment is everywhere rife.

Probably the two most prosperous countries in the world today are the United States and Canada, and they are two countries where everybody, generally speaking, is willing and anxious to work, and, in fact, are at work. The prosperity of these two nations are the workers, and the men and women to whom all work up are those who by their own efforts have achieved a marked success in life. Sometimes it is even charged that the United States and Canada the people make too great a work of work, but at least it has brought peace and contentment at home, prosperity, and a high standard of living.

Now turn to another picture and view conditions in a country where, because of strikes and industrial upsets, approximately two million men are not at work. The unemployed strike of the coal miners in Great Britain is working hard in all directions, and not on the miners and mine owners alone. Following the general strike called to assist the miners, and which resulted in complete stoppage of work, the unemployed strikers, who were unable to get employment, unemployment figures increased over May and June last, by over 650,000. Industry in every line is suffering, the standard of living has been lowered, and Government revenues have fallen to such an extent that the country is faced with a huge deficit this year. Even Canada suffers because of the inability of the people to buy wheat, butter, cheese, and other products we have to export. The effect of the miners' strike on the coal miners in Great Britain has led to the announced inability of the Railwaymen's Union to meet the levy made on it to support the striking miners. No less than 45,000 railway men have not yet been given employment since the general strike in May last. Sixteen million more are working only three days a week. The same thing is true in scores of industries.

The lesson to be learned from these several sets of conditions is that, much as people may grumble about the way things are, and how to work, the fact remains that in work lies the salvation of the race. All work and no play may make Jack a dull boy, but no work soon results in moral and physical degeneration. The workings of the present age on this continent are the sons and daughters of the rich who lack any incentive to work and who find time hang heavily on their hands, indolence in all sorts of foolishness and excesses. They are discontented, unhappy, useless, and fill the night club, and divorce courts.

On the other hand, real happiness is experienced today by the men and women who are doing the world's work. Their is salvation and their is pleasure, and in their hours of leisure they are both mentally and physically capable of enjoying real fun and enjoyment out of whatever form their recreation may take. They find satisfaction and not infrequently enjoy in their work of achievement, and at the same time are adding to the advancement of their fellow men and the greatness and prosperity of their country.

There is something radically wrong with the man or woman who objects to working, and who can find no pleasure in it, and the sooner boys and girls are taught the nobility of work, and the satisfaction to be derived from it, the better off will be for themselves as well as for others.

The offer of the prize for the best wheat in the world is a recent year the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is again awarding a prize of $100 to the Canadian farmer the highest number of points in hand with the best wheat of the world's championship in wheat. The International Hay and Grain Show, to be held in Chicago the first week of December, in past years, with but one or two exceptions, the winner of this prize has also proved to be the winner of the world's championship in wheat.

Good Auto Roads In

System of Provincial Trunk Roads Now Being Rapidly Developed
A. W. Campbell, Dominion Commissioner of highways, who has just returned to Ottawa from an inspection trip of roads in the western provinces covering some 2,000 miles of the 1,000 miles of federalized roads already built under the Canada Highway Act, expressed his pleasure with the character of construction.

Mr. Campbell also voiced the opinion that the recent meeting of the Canadian Good Roads convention at Edmonton, attended by some 650 delegates, was the most successful in the history of the organization.

His hope, he stated, for a proper connected system of provincial trunk roads, was being rapidly developed, and the construction of a highway through trunk highway system from coast to coast were even more substantial than the United States through line of roads.

The tax on gasoline, said Mr. Campbell, was acceptable, while the revenue was applied to road improvement. This tax, from two cents per gallon to the United States maximum of five cents, might, he thought, be accepted in every province with the provision that the receipts be entirely devoted to road improvement and maintenance.

Good roads, he stated, contributed, through payment of gasoline tax, over $1,000,000 towards road improvement. Motorists, he declared, do not object to this or even a higher contribution when satisfied that the total tax collection on gasoline was spent on roads and their upkeep.

Airmen Making Experiments

Powerful Searchlights Playing Over London Recall War Days
Memories of the grim days of war raids have been recalled to Londoners who have watched the play of searchlight beams scanning the sky.

From the Hignia Hill aerodrome, Kent, members of the 2nd Anti-Aircraft Battalion have been making searchlight experiments in collaboration with a squadron of the Royal Air Force from Andover.

They have been testing a new and powerful searchlight in an effort to pick out a great R.A.F. bomber ranging in the sky above London.

The big bomber, flying at a height of 25,000 feet, had the advantage in most of the tests.

Britain To See Eclipse

Already Getting Excited Over Next Year's Big Event

Next June the track of the total eclipse of the sun will cross England from Southampton to West Hartlepool, the first total eclipse path to cross England since 1715 and 1724, and the last for at least 200 years more, according to Prof. H. T. Turner, P.R.S., professor of astronomy at Oxford University.

The eclipse occurs on June 25 and, for observers in England, begins about 25 minutes after sunrise. To Italy, when the sun is completely obscured, sun, occurs about 6.30 a.m. The duration of totality will be about 25 seconds. From England the eclipse crosses the North Sea, and then north over Norway, in the northern part lasting about 45 seconds. Then, the path leaves the northern coast of Norway, crosses the Arctic Ocean, northern Siberia, and finally the Alaskan Peninsula, ending just south of them, where the sun sets half eclipsed.

Most of the astronomers who observe the eclipse for scientific purposes will probably go to Norway to take advantage of the extra length of totality.

U.S. People Have Mortgaged Income To The Extent of Six Billion Dollars

The American people mortgaged their future income to the extent of more than $6,000,000,000 during the past year through the instalment sale plan, according to a report made to the administrative committee of the American Bankers' association at the close of the 52nd national convention at Los Angeles.

The report pointed out the dangers that would result from the steadily increasing instalment buying, in the case of an industrial depression.

The roasting, smelting works of Dawson's gold rush live on in the ruins of the old building. The ruins of the old building are still standing, and the ruins of the old building are still standing.

Gold dust was the emp's only means of exchange in those days. It was plentiful and flowed freely and carelessly across the bars of dance halls and saloons.

Some of the old palaces of merit have been torn down for fuel by the dwindling contingent of prospectors who remain here.

Discover that liberal quantities of gold dust mingled with the soil beneath the decaying buildings has made the property on which the old resorts were built valuable. It was said long ago had been secretly spilt across the bars in moments of abandon and which had found its way through cracks of the rough floor.

Jugo-Slav King Works Hard

Yugoslavia Monarch Has No Time For Entertainment

King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia is the most hard-working sovereign in the world.

The young ruler usually rises at five in the morning, and works at affairs of state until late at night. He sees on an average of three cabinet ministers, six generals, several diplomats, and a number of private persons each day. He gives no time to recreation, entertainments or banquets. He believes a king ought to work as hard as the humblest citizen.

There is actually no court life at Belgrade. The youthful monarch of the Tris Kingdom of Serbia, Croatia and Slovenia gives most of his time to the nation's business. He does not merely consult the cabinet ministers and heads of departments on State policy, but gives them orders and advice. No move of any importance is ever made by the cabinet without his approval.

Alexander has no diversions. He never goes to the theatre, opera or races. The things that usually attract kings do not interest him. He and long walks through the countryside are his only distractions.

Italy Bans Everything Foreign

People Greatly Concerned Over Measure Adopted by Mussolini

Public opinion is indignantly concerned with the measures adopted in Italy against foreigners.

Not only are foreign tourists to Italy subjected to many minor annoyances, but it is now announced that it is to be held on foreign actors, variety artists, and even foreign plays in Italy.

Mussolini is also determined to sever the Italian stage of English and German plays.

Pirandello may be played on the stages of half the world, but the works of Shakespeare, Moliere, Shaw, Oscar Wilde, Mims and O'Neill are to be banned from the boards of Italian theatres, and even foreign plays in Italy.

Blazing Ship Spreads Death And Destruction On River In China

SIKANGHAI—A blazing troopship, laden with munitions, drifted yesterday, an inferno of death for 1,500 Chinese soldiers, as it showed minutes in all directions upon the Yangtze River. The ship was the Kuang Yang, transporting 1,500 soldiers of Marshal Chan-Puang, ruler of Eastern China.

Only 200 of the soldiers escaped death by flame, ash or drowning. The ship took fire while anchored before breaking the flames being thrown throughout the vessel almost immediately by the explosion of its deadly cargo.

Leaned from its anchorage by the flames, the Kuang Yang drifted uncontrolled against other ships in the river as its exploding cargo was being hurled into the air and falling in flames upon them and killing many.

Vainly seeking escape by small boats from the flaming ship and menaced by its exploding munitions, the Chinese soldiers aboard the Kuang Yang became panic-stricken and they were struck with fire and shells. Many, unable to swim, plunged overboard in desperation and were drowned in the broad Yangtze.

Drifting past Kiangling, the Kuang Yang burst shells upon the city, causing considerable loss of life and property damage.

Below the city, the vessel grounded upon a mud bank and burst into the water's edge. She was then towed and belonged to the China Merchant Navigation Company. Her soldiers' passages were in the Yangtze, and she was being towed by a tugboat against the Cantonese invaders of Kiangsi province.

British-Italian Treaty Severely Criticized By Abyssinian Delegates

Geneva.—Declaring the Anglo-Italian treaty respecting spheres of economic influence in Abyssinia regards the pact as a threat against territorial integrity, which under article ten of the covenant, Great Britain and Italy are bound to respect, Haile Selassie in reply to the British and Italian delegates at the conference in London, today said that he had no intention of further information has asked Secretary General Sir Eric Drummond to deposit in the League of Nations the Anglo-Italian document along with the Anglo-Italian Treaty.

Repeating his previous arguments against the Anglo-Italian document, Haile Selassie said: "The Imperial Abyssinian government very naturally is troubled on learning that two great powers have come to an understanding on their course of action toward a friendly country, which with them is a member of the League of Nations, without informing that country first. We interpret this as an indication of their intention to combine and exert economic advantages if the Imperial

May Take Dispute To Higher Court

Alberta Act Fight May Go to Privy Council
Winnipeg—The Ottawa correspondent of The Tribune says:

The Department of Justice is taking steps to proceed with the reference to the Supreme Court in regard to the constitutionality of the Alberta Act, money act insofar as it relates to school funds and school lands. The case, however, will not come up before the winter sittings of the court unless a special hearing is arranged meanwhile.

It is considered very improbable that the projected legislation returning to the province its natural resources will be proceeded with until the court decides on this question and if as is possible, judgment is appealed to the Privy Council by one side or the other further delay would seem likely.

Governor-General At Work Arrives at Office at Parliament Buildings Promptly at Eleven

Ottawa—The officers of His Excellency the governor-general in the east of the parliament buildings are at work on the morning of the 11th of November. Under Lord Byng's regime the officers were not used to work and most of the official business was carried on at Rideau Hall. Lord Wellington appears at the east block building at eleven o'clock every morning and spends some time in signing orders-in-council and carrying on his executive work.

It is understood that while the officers are being decorated Lord Wellington will use the prime minister's office. Hon. J. A. Robb, while acting prime minister, used his office in the finance department in the same building.

United States Is Criticized

Pointed Placed on Wall of League of Nations Building
Geneva—Criticism of the United States was voiced in a speech made by the League of Nations building which commemorates the memory of Woodrow Wilson as founder of the league.

The speaker said: "In considering this as the founder of the League of Nations, President Wilson should be considered in a personal sense and not as president of the United States. The American people have done nothing to deserve that their president should be designated as the founder of the league."

Created a Viscount

Lord Byng of Vimy
Saskatoon—The Canadian Press has learned from an unofficial but authoritative source that Baron Byng of Vimy had been created Viscount.

The former governor-general of Canada was received by the king to day and he and Lady Byng later had lunch with their majesties.

The retired governor-general, who is 64 years of age, was created the first Baron Byng of Vimy in 1919, choosing the title in commemoration of the exploits of the Canadians in capturing Vimy Ridge while under his leadership. He commanded the Canadian and Northern Saskatchewan forces in the battle of Vimy Ridge in 1915; K.C.B. in 1916; G.C.M.G. in 1919 and G.C.M.G. in 1921.

Asquith Relinquishes Leadership Of Liberal Party In Great Britain

London—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith made a speech at Greenwich which was purely a political victory, throwing no further light on his resignation from the leadership of the Liberal Party.

Despite his unexpected nature, that resignation had not greatly ruffled the political waters. High tributes are paid in newspapers of all political colors to Lord Oxford's great qualities. Those which opposed him, however, point out that he leaves his party in a state of disintegration and disunity.

It seems to be generally accepted that there will be no attempt to elect a successor to Lord Oxford, the leadership of the party reverting automatically to David Lloyd George. It was the political hostility between Lord Oxford and Mr. Lloyd George which was responsible for the action of Lord Oxford in relinquishing the leadership.

Should Mr. McNabb resign his seat in the legislature, as will be necessary if he accepts the appointment to the local government board, it will necessitate a by-election in Saskatoon City and will, for the time at least, leave this city without cabinet representation.

Other members of the Local Government Board are: S. P. Grosch, N. B. Payne, both of whom are from Southern Saskatchewan. There has been for years a feeling in Saskatchewan and Northern Saskatchewan, that at least one member of the local government board should be from the northern half of the province.

Solution For Canada's Population Problem

Providing For Youth Already Here Says Ontario's Farmers
Toronto—The solution of Canada's population problem should be found not by expensive immigration schemes directed toward the South of Europe, but by providing opportunities for the youth already in the country and for selected ones prepared to emigrate from the Mother Land. Premier G. H. Ferguson declared in an address to the young men's section of the Young Men's Christian Association here.

"If I do not think any boy is a delinquent," the Premier said, "They are largely due to environment and can be corrected by providing improved surroundings."

The Daily News paper says that Dr. Saverio Bruch has left Munich for Rome.

Canadian Ambassador Question
London—With a view to correcting an apparently wrong impression in regard to the Canadian ambassador, there can be no possible objection to the appointment of a Canadian diplomat to the post of ambassador in London. Canadian business with the United States, such an appointment, however, the paper states, is an innovation which suggests various possibilities in regard to the whole question of the empire's foreign policy. It is this aspect that arouses discussion says Post.

The Opportune Moment For Immigration Effort By C. W. Peterson

It is clear as daylight that the psychological moment for a country to launch a comprehensive colonization campaign is when its agriculture has definitely entered the upward swing. Western history and the experiences of those who have been in close touch with colonization work there, point unmistakably to the fact that failure on the land is the greatest obstacle to the efforts of the various agencies devoting time and money to furthering immigration into Canada. It is also a rifle saying but in strict accordance with the truth, that the successful settler is our most effective colonization agent. Common sense upholds both of these assertions. Canada can now with confidence enter the field with a vigorous effort to largely dismount her producing population and with the added assurance that in no period of her history were the opportunities more favorable for agencies the fullest possible value for her expenditure on that object.

The time is favorable for a great, forward looking colonization and agricultural development policy, because agriculture is undoubtedly now in the process of entering the period of great prosperity. It is estimated that there is a total world area of 13 million acres of arable lands and that it takes the products of 2½ acres to sustain each head of population. This would provide the bare necessities of life for 5,200 million people. It is estimated that with the present rate of increase this number would be reached well within a century, so that babies now born would witness the struggle of mankind for bare existence or wholesale starvation in years of extended crop failure. Of course, such a calamity will be averted. The present world-wide decrease in birth rate is society's corrective.

As a result of the "world over" has developed through the crude, ruthless drive through the law of supply and demand. The farmers have, in obedience to this law, for several decades suffered through demoralized prices due to an over-supply of agricultural products. But the reaction is now upon the market, and is swinging the other way, and we have definitely entered an era when food products at a slight loss will command a premium in the world's markets. It would be absurd to argue that in the face of constantly rising commodity prices, which will be maintained through the organization of industrial labor, prices of the basic necessities of life should decrease. I expect that agricultural returns for the coming half century will rise to an increasingly satisfactory level. This tendency is well on the way even now.

This prediction is not visionary. It has a definite, historical background. Wheat, Canada's great staple export, is now, or has been, the controlling factor in all agricultural prices. The comparatively low wheat prices that have prevailed until now, the last couple of years cannot be regarded as in any way normal. Canada now enjoys a virtual monopoly of the sole remaining unexploited wheat areas. Our wheat should, and presumably will, command a considerable premium in the world's markets. The same can be said for the other staples. Canada now produces 60 million bushels of imported wheat annually. She now produces 50 per cent of the entire world wheat crop. About 2 billion bushels. She imports only about 35 per cent, consequently, the European market virtually is a wheat importing factor in world wheat prices. Because for every bushel of overseas wheat placed on the world's grain market, two bushels of European wheat must be sacrificed, and there is a very distinct link to the ability of the European peasant to sell his products at low cost. He must turn his attention to something else, which he will do and prices will go up. Aside from the economics of the wheat situation, there is nothing in history to warrant the belief that prices will not remain permanently on the satisfactory basis of the last two years, which will ensure reasonable agricultural prosperity to Canada for years to come.

Is Good Quarry Manager

British Woman Says it is Very Fascinating Occupation
Mrs. Anne Greaves is Britain's only woman quarry manager.

"It has been said that quarrying is a strange business for a woman to quarries," asked Mrs. Greaves, "of course it is. I have a foreman and plenty of men workers to assist me, but I go into the quarries myself and inspect the seams and direct the methods to be used in getting out the sand and gravel. Stone has become so expensive that it is now developed a plant which makes artificial stone and is doing a good business. I find quarrying is a very fascinating occupation."

Planes Making Daily Flights From Berlin to London

The first daily air service between Berlin and London started Oct. 15. It will be operated by the German Luft-hansa line, the planes of which are now flying between Berlin and Amsterdam and which continue as Croydon outside of London. The British service to Amsterdam, which has been unprofitable will be discontinued. The only previous air service between London and Berlin was for a few months in 1922 when British planes maintained a tri-weekly service.

Notable Vessels Of Former Days

Presentations of models of Showdown and Calmar on board Cairn-Tompson Freighter, Calmar. Seated on the left are Col. W. J. Gear and Capt. John T. Tibbey. Captain Symone, Montreal shipping men were re-qualified of the old days when Montreal was a great port for the export of lumber and timber ships, when a model of the good barge Showdown was presented to the Navy League of Canada on the Cairn-Tompson Freighter, Calmar, by the Cairn Line of Steamship, Limited. This model, together with a smaller one of the Calmar, was formally given to the Navy League president, Mr. Sam Harris, by Col. W. J. Gear, vice-president of the Robert Belford Co. Limited.

The presentation took place on July 27th and attracted it were many well known shipping men and members of the League. Among the guests were Mr. Milton Horey, Mr. T. W. Hare, Mr. T. P. Tibbey, Captain Symone, Captain Millett, of the Port of London Authority, who was visiting the Port of Montreal, and other commissioners and port wardens as well as members of the Press and officials of the Robert Belford Co.

In the presentation address, Col. Gear outlined the growth of Canadian export and trade and showed how the Navy League had been instrumental in the development of the Canadian shipping industry. He introduced the audience to the Cairn-Tompson Freighter, Calmar, and introduced the presentation of the model of the Showdown barge.

Col. Gear reminded his guests of the difficulties under which shipowners in England were operating their fleets when he introduced the fact that the Calmar, in order to be able to make the trip to Montreal, had been compelled to proceed to England to fill her coal bunkers. Since the beginning of the strike in May, it had been difficult to secure sufficient coal in this port.

In presenting the models to Mr. Harris he stated they were built by the builders of the ship they were standing on—the Calmar—and were presented to the League as mark of courtesy.

Mr. Harris is particularly commensurate for a freighter, and has ample accommodation for 12 passengers. Her deck and again interior and hullwork appointments carried a good deal of approval among the visitors. She carries a complement of 12 officers and 46 crew members, and is equipped with radio installations, both for receiving and sending, and also one which can be used for transmitting. It is possible to get in touch with both Montreal and New York simultaneously, from any point in the Atlantic.

A Youthful Cabinet

Present One is Youngest of Any Since Confederation
An Ottawa wire reports that the King cabinet is the youngest Canadian cabinet since Confederation. That is, the age of its eighteen members average less than those of any other. The average is 52 years, the age of the premier, Mr. Robt. is the oldest minister and he is no patriarch, being only 65. The youngest of the cabinet is Lloyd Cannon, 39. Mr. Cannon is three years older than Sir Wilfrid Laurier was when he entered the Mackenzie cabinet in 1877, and six years older than Sir Charles Hibbert Turner was when he entered the Macdonald cabinet in 1888.

Second Cable From Canada To Australia

Will Be Sunk a Mile Deep in Many Places

Wireless has not been developed to the point where it will take the place of the cable spanning the Pacific, and a second cable is to be laid from Canada to Australia to relieve the load being borne by the present single cable.

Five thousand miles of unbroken cable, eighteen inches in circumference, will soon slide out of the hull of the cable ship Dominica to the beach of the ocean between Banfield, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, and the Antipodes. When this working draught reduction in cable tolls will likely be made.

Although the circumference of the cable is eighteen inches, the wire through which the actual messages will be flashed is barely larger than that used for telephone purposes on land. It is covered with a specially manufactured insulation insuring it against breakage and loss of current in transmission. The cable has to be well protected as it will be sunk in places as deep as a mile.

The cable ship Dominica was constructed in British Columbia for the job of duplicating the Pacific cable, it has been built to a special design to carry enormous bulk of the cable in an unbroken line of more than 5,000 miles. With smooth-working devices it will feed the snake-like line of copper wire into the cable to Sata, in Fiji, and from there the cable duplication has already been completed.

Fourteen per cent of the students in women's colleges work their way through school, a survey indicates.

"Thousands of men and women suffering from a generally nervous condition, who get a measure of hope and cheer from the experience of Miss Montreal, 465 Champlain Street, Montreal, whose quick recovery from a long, serious illness surprised her closest friends. If you have ever felt up to the mark, if you are lagged out, you'll be glad to know about Tanlac and what it did for Miss Letour."

"About two months ago, I realized that my condition was far from good. I had spells in which I would tremble all over, and I would feel as if my head would burst. I suffered from severe headaches and would be very sick at my stomach. I was very nervous and unable to sleep."

"I was advised to take Tanlac, and I first bought a small bottle. I can't tell you how I have kept on taking it. I am now on my fourth bottle and feel like my old self once more. My stomach and headaches have disappeared, nerves are in better shape, and I feel in the morning feeling rested and revived. I not only sleep better, but I go about the house with vim and energy."

Because Tanlac has done so much for me, I take pleasure in recommending it to all."

"Miss Letour is only one of thousands who have found happy relief from pain and gained new strength by taking Tanlac. Why not heed their advice. Keep well, keep young and healthy—take Tanlac. Get your first bottle of Tanlac from your druggist, or write for one and see how much it will like it."

Dr. Brandon and John sought to catch Yvonne's attention. He spoke to her companion long enough to be overheard:

"One of Today's best points is that he can love a woman as he has carried that, without musing her. John's face grew a little whiter, and his fingers trembled. He was not used to the fact that when Teddy had put her down his arm, he had for a moment around the girl; that he held her close to him while he whispered and that Joanna brushed his cheek with the back of her hand playfully. The woman whom he had loved overheard him."

"Teddy is beginning a campaign. He always does it with a whisper. Who ever this girl is, and whatever she is, there are some people here tonight who will hate her—Teddy shows signs of following up that little tale."

"John turned to look at the speaker. She returned his glance and started at what she saw in his face. Then she was amused. She said something to her companion, a man who quite evidently would not be her husband."

"Miss Letour said. He spoke to her companion in a low tone. Yes, Yvonne is probably right. It's in love with the girl. Old looking back, and she would make trouble if he will like it."

Ruddy said only that she was pretty and her dress becoming. Yet he understood that the man was speaking, and who had bawled her but a few nights before with the threat of his pursuit of her, already wanted to take her into his arms and crush it. She decided she would have to strengthen her battle with him. She had learned to make her lips provocative, and she knew edge bodily and audibly. She had the sense that in this order of life, so different from the demands of the silent counter and its flirtations, it was much more dangerous to be provoking than to be silent.

His that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.—John vi. 37.

The beckoning of a Father's hand will cure no cure.

His love alone is there, no cure, no cure.

Edward Rowland Hill. The palmer said to her in return, "Did you any children in the old time?"

She paused a little before she replied: "I had children in love, but none that were born mine."

"It is the same," he said,—"It is the same; and if one of them had sinned against you, injured you, done wrong in any way, would you have cast him off, or what would you have done?"

"Oh," said the little pilgrim again, with a vivid light of memory on her face, which showed she had no need to think of this as something that never happened, but knew: "I brought him home. I nursed him well again; I prayed for him night and day, I did you say 'cast him off,' when he had most need of me. 'Then I never could have loved him.'"

"Then you think you love better than our Father?"

French Premier Has Double

Man Honored in Paris Cafe Was a German

M. Polanco, like most noted men, has his double. He has not even several. The most striking came into a boulevard cafe. He had the same closely rimmed, pointed white beard, the same vigorous carriage, the same placid glance. Only the waist line was a little more pronounced than that of France's Premier, but so little that several of those present really believed that it was M. Polanco himself and stood up to honor him. Then the man began to talk. He spoke German.

Made Whole Suit in Record Time

Remarkable Feat Accomplished by Pioneer Woman in 1864

The story of a woman's feat—a woman of the days of 1864—has been told by a correspondent of the Toronto papers, brought to public interest by the fact that a woolen overcoat was "assembled" in such record time at the National Exhibition.

"Emilie Wilkinson, living near the village of Watford, Ont., had a brother who volunteered to enlist in the Northern army. He received notice to report at a certain place in the United States at a certain time. His wardrobe, however, was scanty, and he required a suit of clothes in which to make the journey. The Wilkinsons were a thrifty family and bought nothing which they could make themselves. They had a flock of sheep in which were several black ones. Emilie caught one of the black sheep (possibly two), skinned the sheep, washed the wool, carded the wool, spun the wool, wove the wool into cloth, cut the cloth and made a suit of clothes for her brother. All the work from the first to last was done by her in the home. In one week from the time the sheep was caught, the brother, wearing the suit of clothes, was on his way to the United States."

Some Public Dinners Which He Is Obligated to Attend

The Prince of Wales is so snowed under by invitations to dinners that he has been compelled to impose a limit on acceptances. He was invited to attend the annual dinner of the Incorporated Society of Auctioneers and Landed Property Agents and his private secretary went to explain why the prince could not be there.

From the prince's viewpoint, public dinners fall roughly in three categories—that which have national or imperial character, those organized by bodies where he has direct personal connection and those held by independent societies which exist for promotion of one particular science, art or trade.

The number of annual dinners in the first two categories, at which the prince's presence is practically indispensable, has increased to such an extent that it is almost impossible for him to attend to those belonging to the third list.

Children Like Baby's Own Tablets

Because They Are Tasteless and Are Easy to Take

One of the strongest points in favor of any medicine for children is that it is so agreeable that the mother does not have to force it down the child's throat.

Baby's Own Tablets have no drug taste, are as pleasant to the taste as desired, and babies like them. They are safe for use for children without opiate or narcotic. They sweeten the stomach and remove the cause of fretfulness.

Mr. Arthur Chaboud, Pawtucket, R.I., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets to be a gentle laxative and a good remedy for stomach disorders in children. Our little boy had been given harsh cathartics but these tablets worked more effectively without opiate or narcotic. They sweeten the stomach and remove the cause of fretfulness."

Some ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. Thus, some cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid. They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-cup cut, and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

When you or your children sustain any injury, secure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This salve soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning. It heals so fast that it is lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. All dealers, 60c. bottle.

CHAPTER XVII
John

To make Joanna's appearance a dramatic entrance, openly stage manager evidently was an impromptu invention of Yvonne's. Joanna had expected to appear in the kind of a dress which, suspecting, in her white and gold bodice. Yvonne had said: "Give them time to decide who's to be nice to you. These the few in whom you will be most interested will take you in hand."

When a maid hurriedly posted to catch Yvonne's signal, informed Joanna that she was expected, she hurried down the stairs from the upper floor and onto the balcony. She was quite the grand staircase descended. She was still framed in the doorway when she realized that the people in the great room below were waiting for her. Joanna, their faces uplifted.

She caught her breath. A hand held nervously to her throat. Her eyes had drawn back, but she instantly realized that she was too late. Yvonne caught her glance and with a nod recognized her.

Then exhilaration leaped through their stirred pulses. The carnival spirit of the scene below reached up and encompassed her. A new excitement of happiness galloped at her finger tips. In her face and throughout the vibrant warmth of her. This was to be the setting, symbol of the scintillating festivity at which her life was to be forever shaped. These people, people of her new world, were waiting down there to welcome her among them and their kind! Bravado came into her.
